STORYTIME! In the Story section, be sure to add your photo and share your “why” with the world.

The screenshot shows the 'Story' step in a four-step process (Begin, Story, Review, Launch). A progress bar at the top indicates the current step. Below the progress bar, a question asks: 'Your campaign is called Chantel, do you want to Rappel on Brave Day or Brave Your Own Way?'. The 'Picture' section has a placeholder for an upload and a preview of a campaign graphic. The 'Project story' section includes a text editor with a rich text toolbar and a preview of the story content.

ADMIRE YOUR WORK Review and launch your Brave Your Own Way campaign in support of cancer patients in our community.

The screenshot shows the 'Review' step in the four-step process. A progress bar at the top indicates the current step. Below the progress bar, a green checkmark and message state: 'Nice work, Chantel. Your campaign has been created.' Below this, two bullet points confirm: 'Your campaign is ready to review.' and 'You can edit it any time.' A large purple button at the bottom right says 'Review your campaign'.

SIT TIGHT. The Windsor Cancer Centre Foundation staff will now give your campaign a quick review before approval. While you wait, you can still review your submission and continue to make changes and updates. Use the Visual Editor on the left bar, and click on any of the yellow pencils to make changes.

9

IT'S LIVE! You'll receive an email that looks just like this once your campaign page has been published.

10

START FUNDRAISING. Share your page, and start collecting donations. You can add updates to your story and make changes with the visual editor at any time. Use the quick social buttons to easily share on social media, or via email.
